The Next in a Series of LFA/RI Co-sponsored After-School Events
“What Works Workshops: PLC’s, RtI, and the Use of Data”
(A Program Detailing Some of the Best Practices in Rhode Island Public Schools)

March 30, 2010

NARRAGANSETT ELEMENTARY SCHOOL
55 Mumford Road, Narragansett, RI 02882
4:00 to 5:30 p.m.

You, too, can make Data Driven Decisions for RtI through an effective Professional Learning Community!

Come hear the story of how Narragansett Elementary School has developed a highly successful Professional Learning Community with a clear, effective data driven RtI model. Gail Dandurand, Principal; Lisa Monahan, Assistant Principal; Sharon Martin, Math Coach; Sue Manocchia, District Literacy Coach; and Susan Doboszynski-RTI Core Team Member will share their work from the beginning through to where the school community is today. They will explain what has worked and (yikes!) what has not. They will provide handouts that you can use in your own building/district and provide time for question and answer.

RSVP: RIASP at spatenaude@riasp.org or FAX to 272-9834

Light refreshments will be served. PDC’s will be awarded for each of the sessions in the series
